Subject: Job review
To: Lisa Reynolds-Barbounis <Barbounis@meforum.org>

Lisa,

1. In my April 16 note to you, I wrote "Please don't surprise me with your travels." But then it turns out the Guardian had a mole who spotted you at three separate Tommy Robinson rallies; that definitely counts as a surprise. From now on, you need express permission from me before engaging in MEF travel and you must also clear with me any personal travel that includes a political agenda.
2. I found out a few weeks ago that since you became communications director, and until it was pointed out in a phone call, that articles were not being sent to the Islamist Watch and Campus Watch mailing lists. Have we resumed sending articles to these lists? Why was there a six month lapse in articles not being sent out?
3. Gary and Delaney between them seem to have replaced you with the article evaluation process, social media and MEFO administration. I suggest we formalize this arrangement.
4. I do not notice an improvement in staff and fellow publications. So far as I know, we have not been contacted by editorial boards and your meetings with reporters have not generated quotations. More broadly, our public stature has not improved.
5. Conference calls have stopped since we ended Marilyn's role.
6. Your last weekly report to me was on April 22.
7. Videos have appeared on YouTube, but too few.
8. On April 17, I wrote you (below) "I am not convinced that you are focused on the tasks we agreed upon back in November, such as tending to MEFO and cultivating editors to improve our publishing record. Please show me that you are." Forty days have gone by; can you establish how you have done so?

(I wrote this 2½ weeks ago but incessant travels delayed my sending it to you until now)

Lisa,

The Guardian article from May 17 has a long, insinuating paragraph about you along with a picture of you. The clear implication is that MEF supports Tommy Robinson's campaign.

This rates as both a surprise and an unwelcome complication. The article could entirely disappear but it could also pop up in the future and make trouble for us. I do not want potential trouble hanging over us, so am displeased.

You and I have already discussed the matter of your affiliating MEF too closely with Tommy Robinson and we reached an informal agreement that you would stay away from his efforts. Given this development, I am now imposing a formal limitation on you: No campaign work, even during your private time, without clearance from me.

Please reply to me with your response.

Daniel

Dear Daniel,

I too was surprised that I appeared in their sites. I thought we agreed that it was fine that I helped Tommy on my own time unrelated to MEF. I thought this because in your office with Gregg I said that I occasionally help with the TR.News emails on my own time under the name Lisa Reynolds and there was no objection. You also wrote about this in another email to me two weeks ago. I responded:

Noted. Although, the trip was for fun and not intended to be political. My children went with me. I don't intend on going back any time soon.

Noting your current email and thoughts, from here on out I will not involve myself in campaign work, even on my personal time, without clearing it with you.

And in the event that you are unaware, I am an elected Republican Committee person for Philadelphia.

Awww baby I'm so sorry. I think you have a lot going on in your world right now, to be honest. I think many of ur professional aspirations are in London, and that's where you're truly happy. Knowing that your going to have a suit with GR HAS to wear you down.

But just don't be too hard on yourself. You are awesome at what you do. People at MEF told me that before I ever even met you. I've seen you in action juggling a million responsibilities and you are beyond impressive. You are so remarkably intelligent and socially things appear effortless for you.

Just remember that when Gregg or DP gives you a hard time. You are on a whole other level girl.

Ben, I care about you you know that. But we are both in crazy places right now. You have the issue with your wife. I have kids, this suit, my bosses trying to fire me every day, and then I have some of your wife, too. Not that she is bothering me, but I still am stressed at the fact some woman thinks I ruined her life. So yesterday I was so down I went to bed, barely interacted with my kids. This isn't just fooling around to me but I'm also insanely stressed out. I'm drinking heavy and smoking. It's like I'm self medicating. I have no clue what I'm doing or how I feel day to day. Yesterday was so bad Tricia and Marnie were like checking in on me because I was so checked out. I don't know what to say to your message. Of course I want to be there for you but not at the expense of my own sanity. I dont think I can be held accountable to anyone right now. Of course I care about you but I'm not in a place where I can handle any additional pressure. I'm sorry if that comes across as mixed signals. I understand that it may be unfair to you but in my life I need positivity and leniency. There are days that I feel like I'm losing my mind.

Lisa,

Thanks for the full replies.

I am reluctant to tell you where to go and what to do in your private time. But I am adamantly opposed to the press getting wind of your working with Tommy; we have a limited role in his work and your repeated presence there goes much beyond our preferred limits.

So, go if you wish but know I will be very upset with major consequences if your presence becomes known outside Tommy Robinson's own circles.

Put differently, I much prefer you not go but I leave the decision to you.

"Jefferies: What gives anyone the right to tell anyone where they can and can't live?"

Yemini: Borders?

Jefferies: I know borders, but wouldn't it just be nice if we got to a place in society, a utopia where we all just commit to this one idea?

Yemini: I think most sensible people would agree with you in theory, but in practice, it goes against human nature, it just doesn't work."

Yemini, "We are seeing a rising effort to silence anyone that disagrees with the main stream media narrative. They will do everything in their power to discredit you, even if it means blatantly lying to the general public."

The underlying and crucial message to be taken away from this blatant act of deception is to be mindfully critical of the liberal media we consume. This instance is just one of many where any message counter to the main stream is altered to fit their calculated narrative of misconstruing conservative activists' ideas into extreme rhetoric, even if they have to create this rhetoric themselves.

Press

Communication

Police originally arrested Robinson in May of 2018 for a “breach of the peace” and within 5 hours changed the charges, convicted him and sentenced him to 13 months in prison for “contempt of court”. Of that sentence, Robinson has already served 10 weeks in solitary confinement.

After appealing the case and mass demonstrations by supporters, Robinson was released from prison and the highest judge in the land found procedural failings by the judge who originally sentenced him. The Lord Chief Justice stated the way the case was handled “gave rise to unfairness”, further determining the proceedings were “fundamentally flawed” and ultimately sent the case back to the Attorney General.

Not content with the first round of political persecution, the decision to re-charge Robinson, with an added charge of causing anxiety to the Muslim pedophile defendants, was made five months after the case was referred back to the Attorney General.

Robinson presented clear evidence that the court had failed to adhere to their own standards regarding court reporting restrictions, that he only presented information that was in the public domain, and that the trial had ended granting no possibility of collapsing the trial. Nevertheless, he was found guilty on all three charges and sentenced to 6 months in prison.

Shrewdly, the Judge knew that with time served Robinson would be released today in turn reactivating an expired 3 month suspended sentence which yielded a combined 9 month sentence. With 138 days counting toward time served, Robinson will spend approximately another 10 weeks in prison, likely in solitary confinement.

Adding insult to injury, Robinson was also ordered to pay the prosecution’s court cost which are estimated to be upward of £25,000.

With appointed judge Dame Victoria outright admitting she intended to make an example out of Robinson, the message is clear. The UK government and the globalist media are determined to sweep the Muslim pedophile grooming gang epidemic, and any robust conversation regarding Islam, under the carpet. All attempts to highlight the realities of Islam that counter their globalist agenda will be met with the full force of the law, regardless of innocence.

This is undeniably political persecution. Tommy Robinson is a political prisoner and we are all witnessing the erosion of the justice system that once made this country great; all at the hands of the globalist agenda.

I hadn't heard of this author, Danusha Goska, of Polish & Slovak parentage, but she's apparently has a following (I found this via FB). She linked to a FrontPage Mag. piece on Robinson by Bruce Bawer and was summarily banned for seven days.

Daniel, I thought of you when I began reading this, as she recalls her days as a visiting student in Poland in the late '80s. A long but worthwhile read that compares contemporary efforts to ban speech with life behind the Iron Curtain and recalls Polish history.

Perhaps Goska would be useful in our work on Robinson, or at least an ally.

As a communications professional with over six years of legislative experience, in both the public and private sector, I know my diverse skills and qualifications will make me an asset to the GOP team.

As you will see from the attached resume, I am a passionate conservative who has dedicated my career to forwarding the objectives of the Republican party and fighting for American interest both internationally and domestically. I have worked on legislation and messaging for two members of congress, a candidate for MEP in the United Kingdom, countless political campaigns and I thrive in the fast-paced environment of Congress and politics.

In addition to being flexible and responsive, I am achievement driven. Since entering my role as Director of Communication for the Middle East Forum I have increased our social media engagement by 32%. From June 2018 through June 2019, I helped place 1,128 articles by 56 experts in 97 outlets, from D.C.'s influential The Hill to the Wall Street Journal, from The Washington Times to Foreign Policy. Additionally, I arranged for 27 of our experts to be interviewed 92 times by 81 media outlets on both radio and television ranging from outlets like I24 News and Al Jazeera to Fox News. The connections that I have made and maintained with members of the press over the years may be one of my biggest contributions to effectively assist in forwarding the Member's objectives.

In closing, I am thrilled at the possibility of returning to Capitol Hill and would love the opportunity to meet with you and discuss the value that I can bring to your office. In addition to my resume, I have also included writing samples for your review.

Of course, a simple letter and resume never tells the entire story about any job applicant. That is why I am hopeful that if you have any questions, you will contact me at 215-910-2154 or lisabarbounis@gmail.com to either arrange a follow-up meeting or conversation.

Call from M.
Ebert

Gregg: 00:01 Hello?

Matthew Ebert: 00:03 Gregg?

Gregg: 00:04 Yes.

Matthew Ebert: 00:05 Hey, it's your anonymous source again.

Gregg: 00:07 Yes.

Matthew Ebert: 00:09 Not in agreement to any kind of recordings, right? Either your PA or wherever you're at. I'm not in agreement to that. Can you take me off speaker?

Gregg: 00:15 Okay. I ain't on speaker, I'm in a restaurant right now, in New York City.

Matthew Ebert: 00:20 Okay. Well, same applies, right?

Gregg: 00:23 Yeah, yeah, no. I'll just say the deal is the deal.

Matthew Ebert: 00:27 Okay. Question for you first of all, any of the information I'm giving you, is it going to help you at all or not?

Gregg: 00:32 Yeah, look, I haven't gotten any lawsuit yet.

Matthew Ebert: 00:35 Okay. That's surprising. I thought the paperwork was already there and that's why you were out. We're talking about New York for the Middle Eastern Forum, correct?

Gregg: 00:43 Yeah.

Matthew Ebert: 00:44 Yeah. I'm just letting you know, because if you haven't been served yet, because you're home right now on work leave, so I know we're both on the same page, but I'm just surprised that you hadn't been served yet.

Gregg: 00:55 No.

Matthew Ebert: 00:56 Okay. I'm going to run some stuff down, and again, if you write it down, it's fine. If you just want to absorb it, it's all up to you, I'm just letting you know. I told you about the woman down in DC.

Gregg: 01:07 Uh-huh (affirmative).

Matthew Ebert: 01:09 She's got a long sexual history past, so I don't know who you're... The attorneys you have that are working for you. I don't know what they can do, as far as what they will do, as far as their limits go, but even on a Friday or Saturday night, she's out on the prowl that would do anything as far as your case goes, as far as what she's claiming is referring to you. I know that she's the one that I guess got the ball rolling with the suit and everybody jumped in the suit because of her. I think they follow her lead. Some of them were encouraged to follow the lead on that.

Matthew Ebert: 01:40 The one woman that left, or she's leaving within the next month, actually joined in the suit and made up just to cash in. Some of them are already counting [inaudible 00:01:48] hope on first settlement, so they already spent some of their money. I know that for a fact.

Gregg: 01:54 Okay.

Matthew Ebert: 01:56 The other thing is the drug policy. Do you have a drug policy there or not?

Gregg: 02:01 Yeah, it's pretty clear.

Matthew Ebert: 02:04 Okay. My question to you is this, sooner the better because some of them have left. I don't think you can test the past employees, but the now employees that are there that are affecting you with this suit. I don't know how much longer you're going to wait to drug test them or what you have to do to test them. But if you wait, I don't know what you'll get, but if you do it soon, you're probably going to get something from somebody, out of probably who's left because I know some of them are still leaving.

Gregg: 02:29 We have to have a credible accusation or some kind of evidence that for instance, you would say, "These people were at this bar on this night," or, "They may have gone out in Philadelphia. We had an anonymous tip that they did X drug." You don't have to give specifics, but if you give me a date and where they were, then I would be able to use that to get them tested.

Matthew Ebert: 02:49 Well, let's put it this way. I know for a fact within the past three weeks that three of those four women involved in that lawsuit were out and about and they were doing drugs. They were smoking marijuana and they were sniffing some other medication that they're on. Is that clear enough for you, and now does that help you in any way?

Gregg: 03:06 Yeah, definitely. Can you just tell me...

Matthew Ebert: 03:09 They were at... In Philadelphia is where they were all at.

Gregg: 03:11 Could you say which medication that was?

Matthew Ebert: 03:15 They're on some kind of medication for, they all have this learning disability. Can I go that far, or do I really need to name it?

Gregg: 03:22 I get it.

Matthew Ebert: 03:23 You know what I'm saying? So I'm going give you two drugs that they take for this disability. They take Adderall or they'll take another medication for that. You know what I mean? I forget what the other one's called, but they take two medicines to focus. Well, those medicines are being abused, that and marijuana is being abused. That was three out of the four involved in that law, as of three weeks ago, and that was at a place in Philly they were all out and I was present at. So I don't want my name included in it, but that's definitely where it came from. That's where that came from firsthand.

Matthew Ebert: 03:52 And I can tell you that because I... I'm sorry, go ahead.

Gregg: 03:55 I was just going to say we tried to talk with them and say, "What is it that you want?" And they didn't want to talk to us. You're saying that they want a settlement, but we tried to speak to them and just got a response back. No.

Matthew Ebert: 04:13 They are all banking on a... I'm not going to lie to you. They're all banking on a large settlement. One of them has [inaudible 00:04:20] I guess whatever they think they're entitled to, and they're banking on the settlement quite clearly on that with the money they think they're going to get. Apparently the one girl they've already questioned is the girl I talked about in DC. They've questioned her morality.

Matthew Ebert: 04:33 If they were to follow it up, I think that would just level her suit, I mean, just chew holes in it as far as her sexual [inaudible 00:04:41] and what she does. The other thing [crosstalk 00:04:44].

Gregg: 04:45 ...understood, sorry, I didn't mean to interrupt you.

Matthew Ebert: 04:48 No, no. The other thing is, I know you've been out, I don't know how many months it's been you've been out that you've been out for at least I think five or six months. Correct?

Gregg: 04:54 10.

Matthew Ebert: 04:56 10, so [inaudible 00:04:57] for 10 months now because the main boss is only in once a week, I think. Correct?

Gregg: 05:02 I don't know, I don't keep track of him.

Matthew Ebert: 05:03 In those 10 months. Yeah. Okay. In those 10 months, because there's no supervision in that office, they come and go as they please. They do what they want. There's no accountability. Half the time, there's not that many people there, if one, if you're lucky at that office. Because there's no supervision and they have the feeling that they can do work from home, do whatever they need to do. There's no one there.

Matthew Ebert: 05:28 So I don't know if that's the leverage for the suit also, but that's also, that comes into play as well.

Gregg: 05:33 They're just bragging about this? You know there's going on...

Matthew Ebert: 05:36 They just talk about it. That's the, like I said, I haven't been there. I haven't been where they work at, but that's the talk about that that's what they do because there's no supervision and I knew it was an extended period of time because they said that.

Matthew Ebert: 05:51 There's also, between me and you, [inaudible 00:05:54] you can tell whoever you want. There's just off the record between you as far as anonymous source, there was this girl, I don't know which girl. I believe it's the one down in DC. She ran into another girl who quit. I don't know how she did this, but she said she has a recording of her speaking about something that happened at your place with... Not your place, at your place of business with you, which was made up in order to strengthen their case and it was recorded. Whether it was recorded in a public place... Yeah, so you can see the extremes that they're going to in order to try to get at you and I just listen.

Matthew Ebert: 06:28 I am all for listening to certain bullshit, but when I know it's to extract money or go [inaudible 00:06:34] somebody in a position like yourself, it's not right. And a lot of them, like I said...

Gregg: 06:38 Can I just ask you why you're... I really appreciate this, but I have to ask, what's your motivation? I mean you're just a good guy? [inaudible 00:06:48].

Matthew Ebert: 06:50 I'm sorry, what's my motivation?

Gregg: 06:52 Yeah, you're just a good guy it seems like, but I mean...

Matthew Ebert: 06:55 Well I guess I don't want to... I don't like to see people taken advantage of, and this is a major, major advantage. You are in a position of power. These women have, for whatever reason, feel that they can try to take you out of that place of power. And I don't understand why you would, they would wreck a good thing but my whole thing is the morality of it. that you don't sue someone for something like this [inaudible 00:07:20] or put somebody through the mill if it's not right and it's not true.

Matthew Ebert: 07:24 And from what I can gather from what I've heard, it's not true. And some of the things, like I said, their outside lives of work would crumble their case only because of what I told you as far as drugs, the sexual history of the numerous, but especially the one down to DC. There's dirt, then that's just the case of a young girl also that works there. She's got a job that I think in a month she's leaving or something like that, where she's on the downside also. I don't know what your lure is, how they look at things, if they look at these people harder, that they dig more, they're going to find a lot more out than they thought was there.

Matthew Ebert: 07:56 And if it was me also, if you have a drug testing policy based on what I told you for three weeks ago in Philadelphia, it was at a, not a club but a high end dinner and then this was going on right afterwards. That should be enough to test. I don't know what your policies are.

Gregg: 08:12 I get it, I understand it. And there's no way we could ask you to come forward even if it was as an anonymous...

Matthew Ebert: 08:20 I can't because of what it's going to cost me. It's going to cost me a lot and...

Gregg: 08:25 I don't want you to be in that position. But I appreciate your, I appreciate it. I had to ask though, because I have a duty to the people.

Matthew Ebert: 08:31 No, I understand that. And I have no problem continuing to relay information to you, as long as I'm not recorded or asked. I'm not going to testify or anything like that, but as far as even giving depositions, I won't do that because I think I'm in a position to at least pass off information to you that can be useful. That can be useful for your case and that can be useful not to pay anyone out, send them money they're not entitled to at all, especially for something that's not true.

Gregg: 08:56 Well, I appreciate it [inaudible 00:08:58].

Matthew Ebert: 09:02 Are you there? Your phone's breaking up. Are you there. Gregg?

Matthew Ebert: 09:12 (silence)

Lisa:

I know that your house was disgusting and all your furniture is from a charity shop, because you told me. I know that Danny comes home and spends no time with them and just stares at his phone the whole time. I know that you have no money. I know that you barely have any money for food, that all of their clothes come from a charity shop, that you've pulled a knife on your hus ... or your whatever the fuck he is in front of your kids. I know that they watch you cry. I know that they've seen your black eyes. I know all of it because you told me. (Laughs) You think that that's all they need? Okay. Keep dreaming. That's how you end up this fucked up.

Lisa:

I'm not pissed about anything. I'm mad that you fucking keep bothering me. I don't give a fuck about Danny. He's a loser, look at him. He's a laughing stock of the internet. He's a laughing stock of his own friends. He's a fucking joke-

Lisa:

Ha! Absolutely, positively not. Absolutely not. Absolutely not. And I have proof. If he wants to call me, tell him. Because I'm free to ruin both your lives. It's not a problem for me at all.

I'm not ruining my relationship with Tommy for your fucking crazy ass. But I already warned Danny, so I'm giving him the chance to settle you the fuck down.

Lisa:

I tried to build you up and make you feel better about your own life, but then you kept harassing me and being crazy, so then, I'm just gonna retaliate. Then I'm just gonna fuckin' be back to the corner and you're gonna make me say things that fuckin', you don't wanna hear. That's on-
